Peaceful Parenting

featuring Nancy Buck, PhD

Wednesday • October 18, 2006
Holiday Inn • Marquette

Peaceful parenting is a process that helps parents navigate the lifelong job of parenting, while maintaining a loving relationship with their children despite their inherent differences. Dr. Nancy Buck will help parents learn ways to provide a safe, healthy, loving environment that supports the goal of teaching children to meet their own needs in responsible ways.

Dr. Nancy Buck is a nationally known presenter, trainer and educator. Her book, Peaceful Parenting, represents not only her 20 years of studying and teaching Choice Theory around the country, but also her 20 plus years of parenting her identical twin sons.

Dr. Buck completed her doctoral studies in Developmental Psychology with a specialty in parenting. Her genuine, warm and authentic teaching style is clear and concise, helping learners move from theoretical to practical applications.

Come learn how to create a more peaceful home, with increased cooperation and less arguing between generations that can lead to an improved quality of life for every member of the family.
